Captain's Log

Greetings from the Bridge.

This is our last newsletter for the year. Hopefully COVID permitting, we will all get to enjoy our bays and some good boating over the summer months.

The committee held our Christmas meeting recently on John and Beryl's lovely launch "Blue Safari" followed by a meal at the Te Rawa Café and Boatels. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all and my thanks to John and Beryl and the staff at Te Rawa for hosting us.

An important item that was discussed was the format of Picnic Day this New Year. It was agreed that under the current Alert Level 2 restrictions it wouldn't be possible to hold the event. With the uncertainty surrounding the traffic light system that may be in place, the committee has decided to hold off making a final decision until December the 3rd which gives us time to publish our decision in this newsletter. One of our main concerns is having to verify the vaccination status of all attendees and how to police this especially as people come and go from the reserve all day long from various access points. We note that the Hopai Sports Day has already been cancelled for this year.

We are upgrading our signage on the wharves and slipways at both Bays to include the Boat Club bank account details. Many people don't carry cash these days so hopefully this initiative will make it easier for non-members to contribute when they use our facilities.

A range of Tennyson Inlet Boat Club apparel is now available online. Details of styles and the ordering procedure is advertised in this newsletter.

We would like to run more personal interest stories in the newsletter along the lines of "What's in the Shed" as mentioned in a previous newsletter. This edition features a classic converted rowing dinghy belonging to Dave Broadway of Penzance. We would love to hear from any other members who may have something of interest in their shed that they would like to share.

With the busy season upon us can I please remind everyone of the 5 knot rule within 200 metres of the shore for all vessels entering and departing our Bays. With the increase in the number of jet skis and other craft there is the potential for a serious incident if this rule is flouted.

A reminder that the Club's AGM is scheduled for Monday 27th December at 4pm at Clare and Vicky's home in Duncan Bay. As usual the formal part of the meeting will be followed by a social gathering. Everyone is welcome to attend.

My thanks go to my fellow committee members and other club members that helped with our various activities over the year.

Safe Boating,
Roger Smith,
Commodore.

A big thank you to Johnson's Barge Services. They were doing some work for the Harbour Master in our area and cleaned our 5knot buoys, which were apparently quite laden with growth.

We have now have a 'Sister' club in Canada!

We recently received a twinning proposal from the Lac Deschenes Sailing Club in Canada that was presented to us by Bill Parker (brother in law of the TIBC Treasurer, Dave Wade) during his visit to NZ. We had hoped Dave would be able to hand deliver the acceptance to the proposal on his recent visit to Canada, but like a lot of things this year, Covid-19 meant it was not possible for him to visit the Lac Deschenes Club. Nonetheless, the club has accepted the proposal which will see both clubs offer full reciprocal privileges to members visiting the sister club.

TIBC Annual Picnic Day 2nd January 2022

With COVID restrictions in force the Committee has been discussing the feasibility of running Picnic Day on 2nd January.

It was felt that it would be good to hold an amended event, with the safety of the volunteers and attendees being paramount.

So it has been decided that under the current Traffic Light System the following actions will apply:

RED: Picnic Day will not go ahead.

ORANGE: We will attempt to run a modified Picnic Day. Entry to the event would be restricted to vaccinated persons only and entail a reduced range of controlled events which would all be confined to the Betty Archer Reserve. Children under 12years and three months do not need a Vaccine Pass.

GREEN: Picnic Day would proceed with a few controls.

If the present Orange status remains in force then we intend to follow our above guidelines, however due to the changing nature of this pandemic, a final decision will be announced at the AGM on Monday 27th December.

The status of the event will also be updated on our Facebook Page.

The Committee,
Tennyson Inlet Boat Club.

Penzance Wharf Refresh

Late November Scott & Libby Archer helped to waterblast the areas of the Penzance Wharf that needed a spruce up and a paint.

A Working Bee took place over two days in early December to repaint the buffers. Volunteers David Wade & Herrie ten Oever replaced some buffers. Then scrapped, sanded, primed, and first coated them all. Leanne Schmidt provided some refreshments. Rain scuppered immediate plans for the second topcoat, with this pending at the time of writing. Look out for more “Wet Paint” signs in future.

WALK/LUNCH

8th January 2022

Cruise and walk the track around the coast and over the hill to Wilsons Bay and on to Te Rawa for lunch. Return trip via the Gannet colony.

Departing 9am Penzance wharf.

Cost $50 adult $30 children, includes walking track, woolshed tour, and boat, lunch at own expense. Walk is approx. 2-3hrs.

Check the Bays noticeboards for further details and other trips.

Duncan Bay Turning Area

In November, Fulton Hogan finished their work at the Duncan Bay turning area. Some further tidy up work needs to be done which will be undertaken in the New Year.

Nevertheless, that is great news. The work took much longer than expected due to wet weather, COVID lockdowns, flood damage elsewhere in Marlborough, and a change in strategy under the supervision of an engineer engaged by the Marlborough District Council.

In the end, the MDC paid around $32,000 for the area to be excavated and compacted for drainage and a grid system to be installed to help stabilise the whole area after heavy rain when it is affected by springs.

The TIBC is extremely grateful to the MDC for funding and project managing the work and to DOC for their cooperation.

Hopefully, members and the general public will appreciate the improved turning bay area (and remember not to use it as a parking area).

What's in the shed...

This newsletter we feature "Holly R", a beautiful 14ft classic clinker

Originally built in Dunedin in the late 1920's as a twin station rowing dinghy, it was used as the early owner's main mode of transport around the Catlins area of South Otago.

Kauri planking using clinker type construction. The new stringers were installed in later years.

Fold away drink holders and rowlocks.

In the late 1930's "Holly R" was converted to a motorised vessel with the installation of a twin cylinder Stuart Turner engine. Initially it had a crank start but has now been converted to an electric start.

The "Holly R" is now owned by Dave Broadway in Penzance Bay who purchased her 3 years ago from the previous owner in Motueka where it had sat in a shed for ten years. The motor required a little bit of TLC but with the expert help of Leigh Potton she is once again in running order. Dave takes her out for the odd excursion so keep an eye out for her classic lines cruising the waters of Tennyson Inlet.

Safety at Sea

Are your life jackets up to scratch?

Now is the time to be checking them!

Wear and tear can shorten your jacket's lifespan, which manufacturers say is usually up to 10 years. This section tells you how to look after your lifejacket and how to tell when you should throw it out and replace it. Kapok lifejackets are unsafe – check, destroy, replace

Kapok is unsafe - Used to fill lifejackets 30 years ago, we now know kapok can absorb water and cause wearers to sink.

Cotton straps rot over time - Even if a lifejacket is not used. In an emergency cotton straps can tear or break off. Lifejackets with either kapok filling or cotton straps should be destroyed and new jackets purchased.

Old lifejackets used in New Zealand may fail in an emergency. If you use an older lifejacket (10+ years old) - or have them onboard – Maritime NZ recommends:

Check your lifejacket, even if you think it's safe - An unsafe life jacket may look in perfect condition. NZ standards have moved on - We recommend that your life jacket meets the current New Zealand Standard NZS 5823: 2005.

More than 10 years old? Replace it. - Manufacturers say that lifejackets can last up to a decade, although it can be less depending on deterioration from age or usage. After 10 years, they usually need replacing.

1. Pull the straps, hard. If any of them stretch or tear, do not use the lifejacket, destroy, and replace.

2. Look for tears or cuts in the straps. If there are any, do not use the lifejacket. Destroy and replace.

3. Check for tears, cuts, or punctures in the lifejacket. If there are any, do not use the lifejacket, destroy and replace.

4. Check if it floats.

Show Us Your...

Recently Brittany (Britt) Andrews was fishing in one of the local bays and caught a very large Red Gurnard (57cm). When Britt and her boyfriend searched to see how large Gurnard grow and what might be a record size, they found that NZ Sportsfishing record size <https://www.fishingcomp.co.nz/hall-of-fame/> recorded in 2020 in New Plymouth was 55.5cm. Other reports of large gurnard found online also showed a 55cm gurnard caught in Kaikoura. So maybe, just maybe Britt has landed a record size fish here in Tennyson Inlet, we say claim it Britt! When queried about exactly where she caught the fish, Britt was understandably a little coy, and said "in the sea".

If you have caught a large or unusual fish, send us your photo and share your story. Send to "Show Us Your .." tennyson.editor@gmail.com

The Marlborough Sounds is closed for blue cod fishing from September 1 until 20 December.

This is to support the reproduction of blue cod by reducing disruption to spawning behaviour and reducing catch numbers.

During this closed season, you may transport blue cod from the Challenger East area into the Marlborough Sounds area as long as you can prove where the fish were taken from.

In the Challenger area, for fish in table 1, there is a combined daily limit of 20, per fisher. This means that you can have a combination of up to 20 of any of these fish in total. For example, you could have 19 kahawai and 1 red cod, or 10 kahawai and 10 red cod. As long as you have no more than 20 in total.

You can have the fish in table 2 in addition to the maximum of 20 fish from table 1. For example, you could take 10 kahawai, 10 red cod, and 6 eels.

This restriction applies if you caught the fish from outside of the Challenger East area and want to move into the Challenger East area.
